Antioch Pliers Strength To Crush Bensenville By Score Of 71 To 28

Sequoits Leading Scorers of Conference JV's Also Win

Grayslake	1	3	208	221
Glenbrook	0	3	116	190

Antioch High emerged from Northwest Conference play last weekend with the most imposing record as the result of having defeated the high scoring Bensenville Bisons 71 to 28.

At the same time Grant held the lead in conference play by a mere one-point victory over the Palatine Pirates, the score 47-46.

Wauconda still tied Antioch for second place by reason of a 64-51 victory over Grayslake.

Neither Ela-Vernon nor Glenbrook have places to play yet so their game was postponed.

With 32 more points scored than Grant and 39 fewer points scored by their opponents than has Grant, the Sequoits appear a better team but will not be able to demonstrate directly their ability against the Bulldogs until Jan. 22.

The Grant J-V's, however, went into first place over the idle Ela-Vernon in the junior loop by defeating Palatine 45 to 27, and the Sequoit J-V's went to third place by beating Bensenville 42 to 29. Grayslake pushed Wauconda into (Continued on page 7)

Chrysler Gets Historic Stevens Speed Trophy

The historic Stevens trophy has been awarded to Chrysler for breaking all Indianapolis Speedway speed and endurance records for stock cars by completing a 24-hour continuous run with an average speed of 89.89 m. p. h. for 2,157 miles. Speedway President Wilbur Shaw, who called the run "the greatest stock car test in the world," presented the trophy to Chrysler Division General Sales Manager E. M. Braden.

The record was set by a stock 1954 Chrysler Fire Power 235-horsepower V-8 New Yorker DeLuxe model which for hour after hour during the grueling run over the roughest and most abrasive hard-top race track in the world reached speeds in excess of 120 m. p. h. and averaged some laps on the sharply curved 2 1/2 mile track of over 97 m. p. h. Regular grade gasoline and stock tires were used during the run.

The Fire Power engine used in the car is the standard production engine. It is rated at 235-horsepower at 4,400 r. p. m. It has a compression ratio of 7.5 to 1, and a bore of 3-13/16 and stroke of 3 3/4. It has a displacement of 31.1 cubic inches.

Twenty-five Shrines Under Construction at St. Benedict Abbey

Twenty-five shrines, some scenes from the Old Testament as well as the New Testament of the Bible are under construction at St. Benedict's Abbey at Benet Lake, Wis.

The hand carved statues are nearly life size. One of the most beautiful is the Holy Family at home, with Joseph at the carpenter bench, Jesus as a child watching him, and Mary, the mother, standing in the doorway. A pet dog is in the foreground. They occupy spaces 8 x 10 feet.

Greatly revered is the statue of St. Benedict where the conventional high mass is sung daily for those enrolled in the Golden Book.

On Christmas eve there will be a midnight mass, and other masses will follow at 8:30 a. m. and 10:30 a. m. for the brothers.

Village Employees Come Under Social Security Through New Ordinance

Village employees will be brought under Federal Social Security as the result of an ordinance passed last Friday evening by the village board in a special session.

The special meeting was held so that the plan will become effective in January of 1954.

A recent state law now makes possible the enjoyment of federal old age pensions by village and city employees the same as employees of business. The employees pay 1 1/2 per cent of their wages and the village the same amount.

Four village employees who will be affected by this new plan are Police Chief Walter I. Scott, Sheridan Burnette, William Thiemann, and Tod Mapletorpe.

Regal China Company To Interview Workers Ready To Start Feb. 15

Rebuilding of Factory Razed by Fire Progressing Very Rapidly

In an attempt to rally their former employees for a return to production some time in February, the Regal China Co. is advertising it is ready for interviews.

By taking advantage of every bit of fair weather, construction workers are putting forth their best efforts to get the new factory building ready for use Feb. 15.

The factory was destroyed by fire during the summer, but out of the ruins is coming a modern fire resistant building equally as large as the old building and considerably more conducive to efficiency than the old one.

The company is adding sewer and water facilities to the new plant, having attached its sewer to the village mains.

While the industry lost much of its holiday business, new molds and dies have been under construction since the minute the owners decided to rebuild, and when the machinery is installed, the production can be started at once and business recaptured for 1954.

After the fire, many of the employees were fortunate to find work elsewhere, but a large number of them will be ready to return to the work that they are most familiar with. Because there is more unemployment in Lake county this winter than last winter, it is expected there will be more applicants for jobs.

Pump for New Well Installed, Wiring and Plumbing Yet Needed

The pump for the new village water well has been installed and now that all remains to be done to place the well into operation is the plumbing and electrical connections, and the roof of the pump house.

The Public Service Co. has promised to run a power line to the pump after Jan. 1 and it is expected by that time the rest of the work will have been finished.

The new well is expected to have a capacity of 800 gallons a minute which is probably a record for the state of Illinois. It is an amount that has all of the village talking.

The funeral service was held on the following Monday and Mrs. Cain returned to Antioch on Tuesday while Mr. Cain remained for two days.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS FROM THE PUBLISHER

Merry Christmas

Allendale School Has Unusual Christmas Party

The Allendale School for Boys held its annual Christmas party at 7:00 p. m. Dec. 21 in the seasonally decorated gymnasium. Santa Claus was represented by Clare Appleby, the director, who distributed gifts to all the boys through the generosity of the Bradley club, the Shelter club and the American Legion.

This year's party was made especially joyous by the presentation to Allendale of a check for over $800.00—the gift of the Spector Motor Company of Chicago and its employees. The presentation was made by Messrs. Feager and Emerson who were the alumni of Allendale who solicited the gift from the Spector company.

This generous gift towards operating expenses is especially welcome to Allendale at this season of the year, though its budget demands throughout the year have to be met by voluntary contributions.

In an attempt to hold up the sale of bonds for the new Round Lake District High school until the Lake County Board of Education rules Jan. 4 on the petition of Hainesville to withdraw from the district, an injunction was filed in circuit court Monday. The injunction notice was not served before the contract for the sale was let to a Chicago Bond house.

Central Gals TV Set

Students of Central High school through magazine and pop machine sales were able to obtain a 27-inch television set for the school. Neil Rosow of Paddock Lake let them have the machine at a minimum of cost and the Steinbeck Electric Co. of Bristol installed the shaft holding the set as a courtesy. The school closed today for the holiday vacation which will last until Jan. 4.

Class of 1953 Gives High School Plaque In Memory of Heroes

The graduating class of 1953 has given to the high school a memorial plaque. The bronze plaque has been placed on the wall of the memorial alcove of the new addition. The inscription is "In Memory Of Those From Antioch Township High School Who Gave Their Lives In The Defense Of Their Country."

Before graduation this year the class decided to leave $50.00 in its treasury for the purpose of purchasing the memorial. The class officers of 1953 are: Jerry Quilty, president; Robert Weber, vice president; Jeanne Hughes, secretary; Mary Ann Nielsen, treasurer.

Secretary Jeanne Hughes met with Principal Albert Dittman early this school year in preparation for ordering the plaque. Members of the Class of 1953 are invited to the Memorial Alcove to view their gift to the school and community.

Family of Seven Killed By Soo Line Locomotive

An entire family of seven persons was killed Sunday night at the Palatine Rd. crossing of the Soo Line near Wheeling in Cook county. The dead are Fred Galle, 37, of Cary, his wife, Violet, 33, and their five children, Audrey, 12; Evelyn, 10; John, 8; Elaine, 6; and Carol, 1, of Cary, Ill.

According to reports of Chicago newspapers when Galle saw the train too late, he speeded up and tried to get across ahead of it. The crossing had little protection much as the Depot street crossing here. Six members of the family were killed instantly and Audrey, the oldest child died soon afterward in a hospital.

Northern Tubing Co. Takes Over Defunct Gephardt Mfg. Co.

Factory in Field Building Is Again in Operation With Eight Employees

A new corporation to be known taken over the factory equipment as the Northern Tubing Co. has taken over the factory equipment of the defunct Gephardt Manufacturing Co. in the Field building and now has it in operation.

John N. Hanson, manager of the plant under the former owners, is secretary-treasurer and general manager for the new corporation, and Miss Jean Bentz will continue as supervisor.

Much of the glass fibre tubing made by the factory will be used by the Gold Chief Archery Co. of Duluth, Minn., in the manufacture of arrows.

The factory now has eight employees and as the business grows may employ more.

The force enjoyed a Christmas luncheon party Tuesday afternoon before closing the factory for Christmas.

The factory formerly was a subsidiary to the Gephart Co. which had its main office and factory in Chicago. Bankruptcy of the main business dragged the local plant down with it. The creditors have received nothing as yet.

As soon as incorporation papers now applied for have been received by the Northern Tubing Co. additional stock will be sold to known subscribers and officers will then be chosen.

Antioch Ready To Observe Fine Christmas Day

Spirit of Good Will Spreads Throughout Community This Week

The birth of the Christ child will again be observed in the Antioch area Friday.

Midnight services in Antioch churches Thursday will be symbolic of that night more than 19 centuries ago when shepherds keeping watch over their sheep heard the heavenly announcement of the coming of a spiritual savior, a child born in Bethlehem.

To many this good news will be revitalized at this time giving them inward peace and good will.

Antioch children will benefit from this spirit in gifts as the outpouring of the love of their parents who give in the name of Santa Claus or Saint Nicholas.

The Christmas story was told in pageant and song in some of the churches and schools over last week-end. These were the children's programs. Adults will find their peace in the midnight services, Thursday night and Friday morning, for there will be services at 11 p. m. in the Methodist and Episcopal churches continuing through the midnight hour, and there will be mass at St. Peter's church at midnight, preceded by carol singing.

Except for the few late shoppers the Christmas rush in Antioch stores will be over by 6 p. m. tomorrow. Stocks in the stores will be somewhat depleted by that time.

Gift exchanges will take place Thursday night or Friday, according to the customs of families. There will be the big Christmas dinner and family gatherings.

Employees of the Pickard China Co. will dine on turkey, the gift of the company which also gave its employees a bonus. The factory will close this evening for the rest of the week.

State Bank employees held their Christmas dinner Saturday evening at Smart's Country House to which wives and husbands of employees were invited.

Youth Center Group Will Give Dance Saturday; Party on Next Tuesday

Officers of the Antioch Township Youth Center met Monday evening and planned activities for the holidays.

A Holiday Hop will be given by the organization from 8 to 12 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 26 at the girls' gymnasium in the Antioch Township High school at which there will be a nominal charge per person.

There will be no charge, however, for a youth party planned for the hours of 7 to 11 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 29 at the American Legion hall. All teen-agers are invited to this party as they are to the dance Saturday night.

Efforts are being made to get an area lighted at Antioch lake for ice skating this winter.

Mrs. Frances L. Davis Buried in Chicago Tues.

Mrs. Frances L. Davis, 37, Deep Lake, died at 7:15 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 19 at St. Theresa hospital, following a lingering illness. Mrs. Davis was born April 8, 1916 at Exira, Audubon county, Iowa, moving to Chicago 25 years ago and for the past five years she had made her home at Petite Lake.

Survivors are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Weinsimmer of Antioch, a son, William D. Davis of Antioch and a sister, Mrs. John Kelly, Minnetonka, N. Y.

Funeral services were held at 1 p. m. Tuesday at the Strang funeral home with the Rev. Howard Benson officiating. Interment was in Acacia cemetery, Chicago.

That Federal Dam Craze

It is no secret that certain people in government, as well as out of it, are eager to build high-priced federal dams on practically every river in the country. The usual argument is that this is needed in the sacrosanct names of flood control and land conservation—though, in many cases, the main goal is a tax-subsidized, tax-free electric power plant which would advance the cause of socialism another step.

In any event, the citizens of Franklin County, Idaho, recently gave a practical demonstration of the wastefulness of the "federal dam craze"—and they deserve the unstinted praise of every taxpayer in the country and all who believe—that local problems should be solved by local action whenever possible.

A river had been washing away great quantities of irreplaceable Franklin County top-soil. Federal "experts" came in, spent some $30,000 on a survey, and announced that the solution lay in a $500,000 dam.

This seemed absurd to Franklin County people. They hired an engineer and developed plans for financing the dam locally, and using local materials and labor. Individuals made donations running from one dollar to $200. Merchants, dairies, farm implement dealers, a power company, a railroad, and other businesses contributed. The dam was built—at a cost of less than $40,000, which was only about $9,945 more than the federal "experts" has spent on a preliminary estimate, and only eight per cent of what the federal dam would have cost.

Keep that in mind when you hear the "build federal dams everywhere" crowd talking.

"President Eisenhower has issued an order which relaxes some of the restrictions on the work of newsmen who must report on the activities of government departments and agencies. Hiding legitimate news does not contribute to national security. . . . It will be well if no further attempts are made to curtail the right of the people to know what their government is doing."

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Start shootin'—boys and gals—you of the heavy foot. You seem nice and grand people at home but when you hit the highway, you throw precaution to the winds—sometimes manners. You don't think you need talkin' to. You do—and not trying to be popular, or running for mayor or something—and knowing I will never qualify as a bobby-soxer idol or something in the first place, I wade in. You don't see a "don't cross—double white line." You turn in traffic without signaling. You get out in the country—and if no officer shows in your rear view mirror, you push her up to 70, or who knows what. You don't exactly choose to be hauled into the mortician's but sisters and brothers, the latch string is out for you.

And now, a step further into speed—this time the box car truck driver, and owner of the juggernaut. Four and six lane highways are duck soup for you—you pound the old rig on the back and up to 60 and 70, but it is not your road—you don't own and keep it up like the railroad folks do. It is not smart. Too many head-ons. When the public turns, it turns. Look how it was with the New Deal—but it happened. The public, some day, will lower the boom—you will find yourself with your 300 or 400 horse power rigs and no place to use same.

Mussolini lived fast and dangerous-like—but he didn't live long—and as the bartender says "choose your poison, folks."

SHORT STORY

When Tommy Comes Home

By Maria Marlorana

STAN was holding the morning paper in front of him like a shield. But this morning it didn't matter. It was a wonderful day, nothing could mar it. Tommy was coming home.

By tilting her head Ann could look from the dinette into the living room where Tommy's picture held the place of honor on the mantel. How straight he stood in that picture.

"And I'm proud of him too," she told herself. If only she hadn't missed him so much. She sighed for the days when he had been away.

Stan peered around the edge of the paper. "Say something, dear?" "No. I'm just feeling sort of happy today."

He nodded in understanding agreement retreated behind his paper once more.

"Hadn't you better hurry, Stan? You wouldn't want to miss him at the station."

Her husband laid down his paper, stood up and came to her side. "Takes exactly nine minutes to get to the depot from here," he said. He looked at his watch. "Train's not due for another five minutes. But—just in case, this one time it might be early. I'll go now." His smile was un-

"Sure you don't want to come along," he called from the front hall.

Understanding as he brushed her cheek with his lips.

"Sure you don't want to come along," he called from the front hall.

"No, I'll wait here."

The door closed. She heard the car starting. It wouldn't do for her to be at the depot when Tommy's train arrived. She was such a ninny about homecomings and home leavings too. She'd be sure to cry. Her husband and son would be uncomfortable, shifting from one foot to the other.

"Mother always takes on so," was their pet phrase about her.

They just don't understand, she thought. They don't know that when a boy leaves for the first time, it's natural for his mother to worry and fret about him.

She walked to the kitchen door, watched the white sheets flapping on the clothesline. Only today they weren't sheets. They were sails in the breeze and the grass underneath was the green sea. Overhead the sky was brilliantly blue. It was a perfect June day. She stretched her arms, sighed with pleasure.

"I wonder," she said aloud, "How often in a lifetime does this bliss come to a person? Very soon now her son would be home."

She ran up to his room. Everything was in order. His prized possessions were exactly as he had left them. "There's nothing to do but wait," she murmured.

Her heart skipped a beat when she saw the car coming around the corner. The train wasn't due yet and there was Stan returning home. Even though she had wanted him to get to the station early, there never had been a time that the morning train was ahead of schedule. Had something happened? Was something wrong with Tommy? But that was absurd. She would have had a wire or telephone call right here at home.

She ran down the stairs, almost tripping over the bottom step in her haste. The door seemed to stick when she tried to open it. It was several seconds before she realized it was locked. She had it open finally. Stan was coming up the driveway, a suitcase in each hand. Tommy was right behind him.

"He took an early train," her husband called.

Ann breathed a sigh of relief. Her arms were around Tommy. "It's good to have you home, son," she said. She held him close for a moment. "Here let me look at you. My you look fine."

"I'm okay, Mom and say, guess what?" His words tumbled out before she could answer. "I've been promoted to Sergeant."

"How wonderful," she breathed. She could feel pride for him welling inside. "Just imagine," she said to herself. "A sergeant already." She gazed proudly at the emblem on his sleeve that read, "St. Andrew's military academy."

YOUR FARM PROBLEM

By Ezra Taft Benson
Secretary of Agriculture

This nation has a serious farm problem. It does not affect agriculture alone. It is everybody's problem.

Today your government has approximately $5 billion of your money invested in farm commodities.

You own outright more than $25 billions worth of wheat, corn, cotton and other surplus farm products. You have outstanding loans on agricultural commodities totalling about the same amount. This figure is growing daily.

You are paying more than $14 millions each month just to store these surpluses. This bill is growing, too, as additional inventories are accumulated by your government.

The losses which your government sustained in disposing of just a small portion of your holdings during the first three months of this fiscal year amounted to $47 millions.

But, you ask, don't we have a farm program designed to insure agricultural prosperity and prevent the very situation we find ourselves in today?

The answer is that we are operating under the same farm program we had last year and for several previous years. Actually we have strengthened it in several important respects to permit farmers to take broader advantage of its provisions. Existing legislation binds us to a continuation of price supports at 90 per cent of parity on basic commodities through the 1954 crop year.

Nevertheless, farm prices have declined steadily from the record peaks established under the impetus of the Korean war in February, 1951. During the 12 months immediately before I became Secretary of Agriculture, the farm price ratio slid from 113 to 95 per cent. Since February of this year, prices have been more stable than in 1952, averaging about 93 per cent of parity.

This story of declining farm income and mounting agricultural surpluses is the best evidence that our present program is not functioning effectively. For more than a decade, our farmers have been producing under pressure. To meet the war-time needs of ourselves and our allies, they turned out record amounts of food and fiber between 1941 and 1946. With the end of the second World War, they were asked to provide the commodities required in the rehabilitation of Europe and other sections of the earth. Then came the Korean war, with new and heavy demands for farm goods of all kinds.

Suddenly this situation was radically altered. World food production had been climbing since 1946. By 1952 this was exerting strong pressure in the market places. Our wheat exports dropped by one-third in a single year, cotton by even more. Not only had importing nations increased their own production, but they found that they could supply their reduced needs at lower prices from exporting countries which had no farm price support programs.

Just as many American consumers have turned from butter to less expensive spreads, so have other nations sought cheaper wheat, cotton and other products.

We have learned through sometimes bitter experience that when the farmer is in trouble, there is likely to be trouble ahead for everybody. This year, net farm income is expected to be nearly $1 billion less than it was in 1952. And in 1952 it was more than $1 billion below the preceding year. While farm income has been dropping, our total national income has actually increased.

This disparity cannot continue in an economy such as ours. When the farmer can't buy the products of industry, there are certain to be serious dislocations.

How we got into this situation is not as important, at the moment, as what we propose to do about it. I have outlined here some of the major problems facing agriculture. In a subsequent article, I should like to discuss some of the possible solutions.

1954 GMC Trucks on Display at Pedersen Bros.

Antioch, Ill. The first of a shipment of 1954 GMC trucks, combining functional styling and a 125 horsepower engine in the light line, has arrived at Pedersen Bros. Implement Co. and is now on display. It is announced by Pedersen Bros.

In addition to styling and extra power for the light duty GMC's, truck Hydra-Matic has been extended through the medium duty classifications which range up to 45,000 pounds, gross combination weight. The Hydra-Matic transmission for these medium-duty trucks and highway tractors has eight speeds forward and two in reverse and is patterned after those used in the famed GMC 6x6 military trucks that went through the most rugged conditions on the battlefields of Korea.

All along the 1954 line GMC has made more than 100 styling and engineering changes.

Of all the conditions affecting the human being, the common cold is undoubtedly the one evoking the greatest number of remedies which vary from common sense to nonsense in nature. Yet, despite these various claims, the still most accepted method of caring for the common cold is bedrest, the Educational committee of the Illinois State Medical Society points out in Health Talk.

Just why some people are more susceptible to the common cold than others is not known. In fact it was only in recent years that the cause of the common cold, namely a filterable virus, was suspected. The condition takes its name from the fact that no one seems to be immune from it. On the average, a person is estimated to have at least two colds a year. Since the average duration of a cold is about five days, one can estimate the economic factors in loss of time at work, reduced efficiency and accompanying debility.

Until the specific virus is determined, a specific cure or preventive cannot be established. While some of the newer antibiotic and antihistaminic drugs have alleviated or abated the symptoms of the common cold, they are not completely effective. Once the medication is withdrawn, the cold sometimes reappears.

Because the common cold manifests itself differently, researchers are inclined to suspect there are many types of colds, all of which attack the respiratory tract with similar symptoms but in varying degrees of intensity. In some persons, a sore throat is a forerunner of a cold, while in others the condition appears suddenly with attacks of sneezing, chills and headache. In some persons, the cold is accompanied with aches and pains generally throughout the body. The muscles are sore and there is a distinct feeling of lethargy which persists for days after the acute symptoms have disappeared.

In the acute and severe bouts, the victim's eyes tear considerably and the eyelids become red and swollen. Nasal secretions are profuse. In very susceptible persons, coughing is an added misery, often producing an intense soreness in the chest and abdominal muscles and resulting, frequently, in nausea. Because of the inflammation throughout the entire respiratory tract, it is no wonder that very susceptible persons develop a severe laryngitis with its accompanying hoarseness.

The person with the common cold is in a state of misery. The sense of taste becomes less acute and the discomfort is heightened by a loss of appetite.

Strangely enough the common cold is not a seasonal affair, although the condition is more rampant during the winter months. Severe colds do occur in the spring, summer and fall. As yet there is no positive evidence to point to the exposure to drafts as a source of colds, although many persons can trace the beginning of a cold to such an occurrence. Just why some persons develop a cold when exposed to chilling or dampness and others do not is not known.

If a cold develops, the best treatment is bedrest. Because the condition is so communicable, it is wise to isolate oneself to obviate its spread. Then too bedrest enables one to keep warm which is essential in the care of the common cold, and forestalls the development of complications such as pneumonia and pleurisy. The diet should include plenty of fluids and fruit juices.

Medications are available to alleviate the symptoms. These produce temporary relief only and should be left to the discretion of the physician.

Give U. S. Savings Bonds
"Give United States Savings Bonds for Christmas," advises Roy Tuchbreiter, Volunteer State Chairman of the Treasury Department's Savings Bonds Division for Illinois. "Bonds are easy to purchase at any bank or other issuing agency and a special gift envelope is available for each bond so that it may be presented in an attractive and appropriate wrapping." Mr. Tuchbreiter continued: "When you give a Savings Bond you are selecting a gift which is suitable for everyone and which will not break, wear out or deteriorate in any way; a gift, in fact, which will become even more valuable as time passes. With peace and security the heartfelt wish of every American this Yule season, the gift of a United States Savings Bond will be both symbolic and practical."

of Series E and H Bonds in Nov. Residents of Lake county purchased a total of $499,901 in Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in the month of November 1953, according to figures received from the Treasury Department by James F. Stiles of North Chicago, volunteer Savings Bond chairman in the county.

Arnold J. Rauen, State Director of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division of the Treasury Department announced that sales of E and H bonds in Illinois were $28,443,797 for the month, a 22 per cent increase over last November's sales. The 1953 quota for E and F sales for Illinois was $390,900,000 and sales in the first eleven months have totaled $363,653,566 or 93 per cent of quota.

Only first and second lieutenants, under 30 years of age, who volunteer and are physically qualified are eligible for army aviation training.

A CHRISTMAS PRAYER

By Evelyn Hardy Johnson
Christmas is a time for joy,
With toys for every girl and boy,
Ornaments and Christmas trees,
Silver snow and holly wreaths.
Happiness for some,
Not for everyone.
For many have a cross to bear,
On this, this day of joy.

You, who have happiness supreme today,
Give thanks on bended knee I say.
If sorrow has not crossed your path,
Your heart should know such joy.
Give thanks to God above,
Please tell Him of your love,
It's such a little thing to do,
For all our Lord has done for you.

Many parents are lonely this day,
For God has taken their child away.
Precious memories for them,
Of a Christmas in the past.
But to their Faith, they hold fast.
So can not you, so very blessed,
On bended knee I say,
Give thanks to God,
On this His day.

Yes, Christmas is a time for joy
For every little girl and boy.

New Kindergarten At Lake Villa Grade School

Kindergarten classes have been started at the Lake Villa Grade school this year for the first time. There are approximately 25 members in both the morning and afternoon classes. The parents make one trip in taking the children to school and the children then make the other trip on the bus. The kindergarten was made possible through the new addition that soon is to be dedicated.

Millburn Masons to Build New Temple

Millburn Masonic lodge No. 127, an organization that was chartered and flourished in Antioch for sixteen years before it moved to its present location, will build a new temple next summer.

Plans are nearing completion and work will be started in March for the new home of the Masonic group that this year completed its first century of existence.

Situated at the rear of the present site on Rte. 45, the new two-story building 80 x 40 feet in size will be constructed of brick veneer. The lodge room will be 40 x 60 in size and the lower floor will house the dining room capable of seating 300 persons, a kitchen, a woman's lounge and a men's lounge.

The new temple will be the result of many years of planning in which dinners have been given and other projects undertaken to raise money for the building fund. Women of the Eastern Star have shared in this fund raising and will share the use of the building.

Construction of the new temple marks the first year of a new century for Millburn lodge which recently celebrated in a quiet way its 100th anniversary. Millburn lodge No. 127, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons was organized—not in Millburn—but in Antioch Oct. 3, 1853.

Formed in Antioch

Located in Antioch for the first 16 years, the organization moved to Millburn on April 8, 1869, and was granted its request for the permanent location there by the Grand Lodge on Oct. 28 of that year.

Desire for a lodge in their home community caused Antioch members to petition for a charter and on Aug. 4, 1892 a petition was presented to the Grand Lodge which sanctioned the establishment of what now is known as Sequoia Lodge No. 827, Antioch, on Sept. 1.

A history of Millburn Lodge compiled by the centennial committee reveals some interesting problems in the life of the Millburn organization.

For instance, on Aug. 29, 1891 when the war between the States was brewing, one of the members of the lodge proposed to build a hall suitable for Masonic purposes and give the lodge a 10-year lease if it would advance him $100.

The plan was thought impractical and the lodge continued to remain at the same location paying $7.50 for rent from May 1 to Nov. 1. At that time there were 30 members of the lodge.

A Bible presented to the lodge on Oct. 11, 1893, the 10th birthday, was used until it was replaced in 1951.

The next housing problem for the lodge was settled in a different fashion at Millburn.

Annual Rent $30

It rented the Hughes hall on Feb. 3, 1897 for $30 a year, and on Sept. 1 of that year a committee was appointed to investigate the purchase of the building known as the Strang store, a sturdy structure 30 x 60 feet in size for $850.

When the committee did not report, the lodge discharged it, and a motion was made and passed that the store building be purchased as a meeting place. On Jan. 1, 1898 the building and lot were paid for and the annual dues raised to $1.50 a year.

Plans to repair and enlarge the hall were started Aug. 23, 1900, and in 1901 an addition was built to the west end of the building. Another addition was built to the west end in 1906, and in this same year a carpet that is still in use today was purchased for $64.93.

Also still in use is a desk purchased jointly by the lodge and the Order of the Eastern Star in February 1906.

Make Improvements

The Masons were operative as well as speculative in those days. The lodge put in a sidewalk on the north and east sides of the building at a cost of $19.20, which included $1.50 paid a man for digging the trench for the walks.

At the start of 1913 the lodge had 78 members.

An interesting record reflecting the war times of 1918 was the communication from the Grand Master ordering that effective Jan. 1, 1919 all ritual work be conducted in the English language as near as possible.

In 1919 an addition of eight feet was built on the entire north side of the building and the cement sidewalk that was put in on this side in 1911 was carefully taken up and sold.

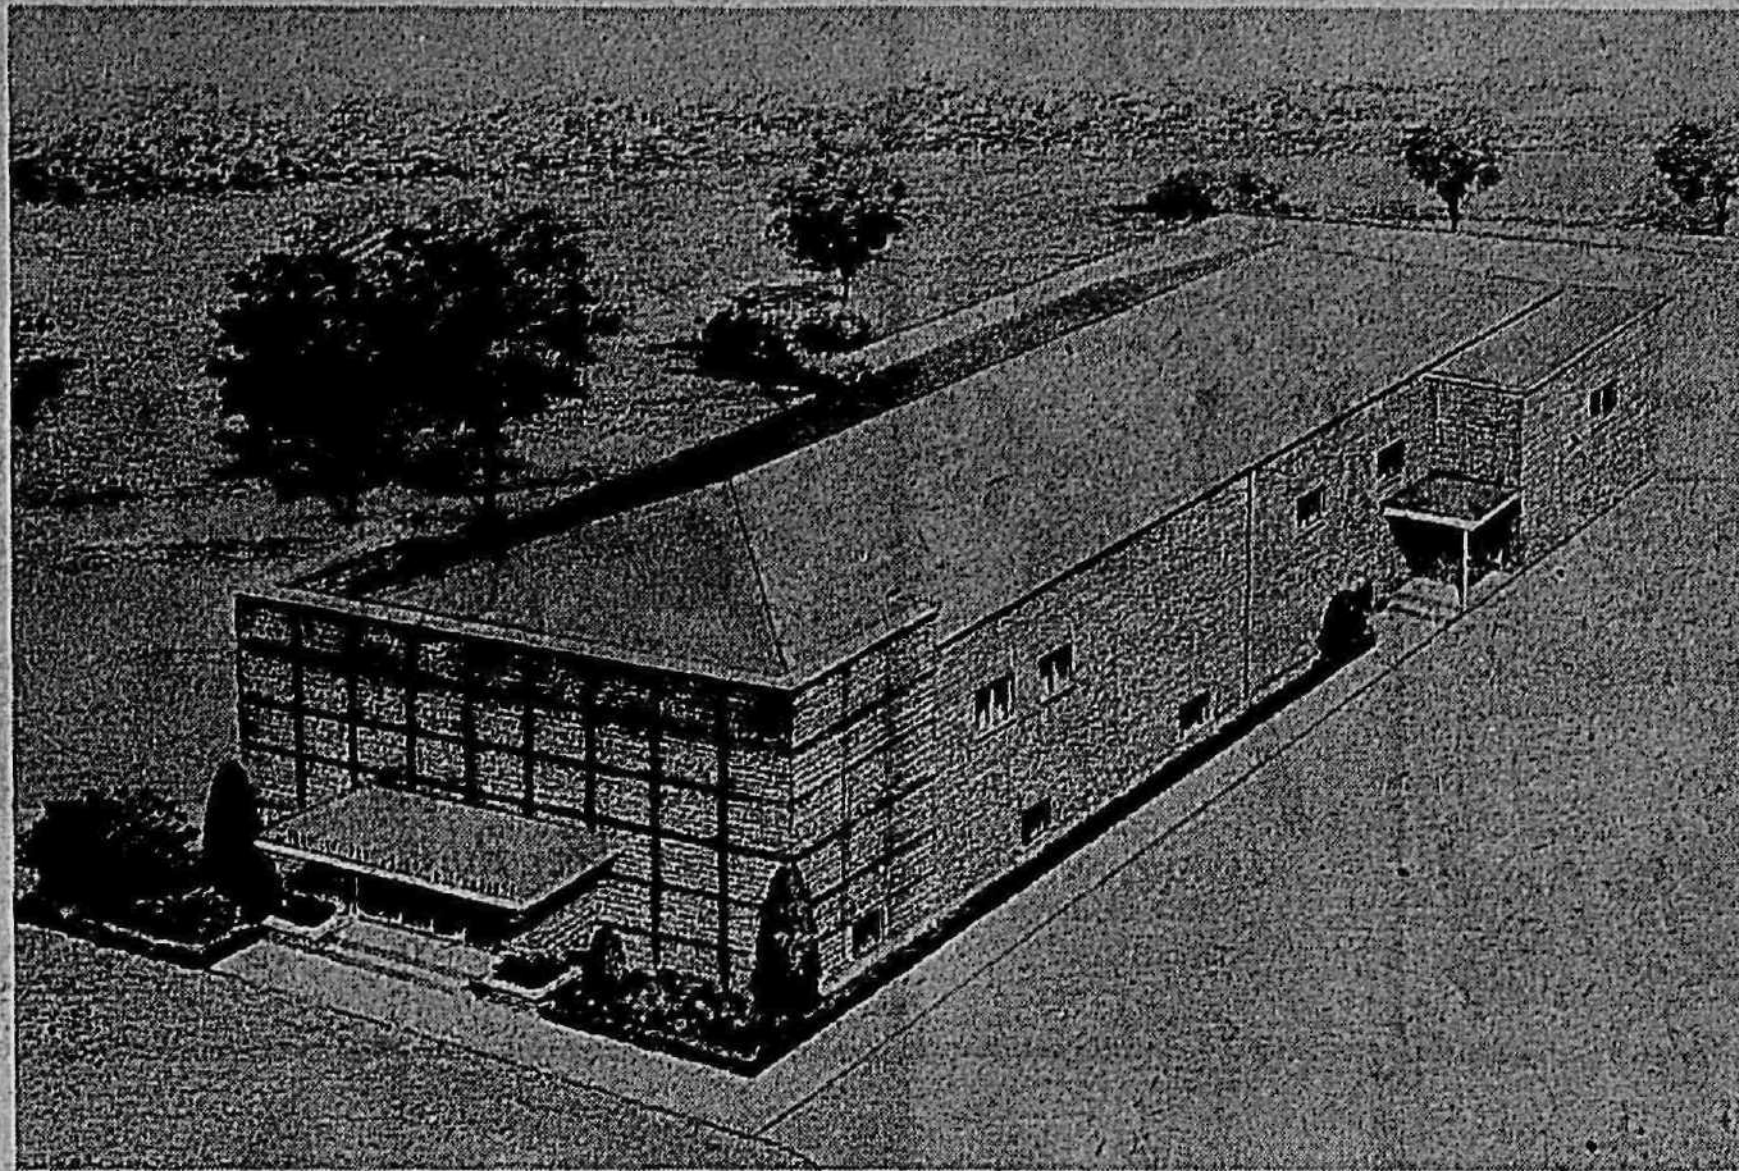

"Great joy was expressed on Aug. 5, 1920, when the lodge hall was wired for a Delco power system and put in use," the records noted.

Available land on the south and west of the hall was purchased on July 1, 1927 and this is a part of the site of the new building.

Electricity furnished by the Public Service Co. replaced the Delco system in April 1930, and at the same time the Eastern Star was granted permission to build an 8 x 10 foot addition on the rear of the building.

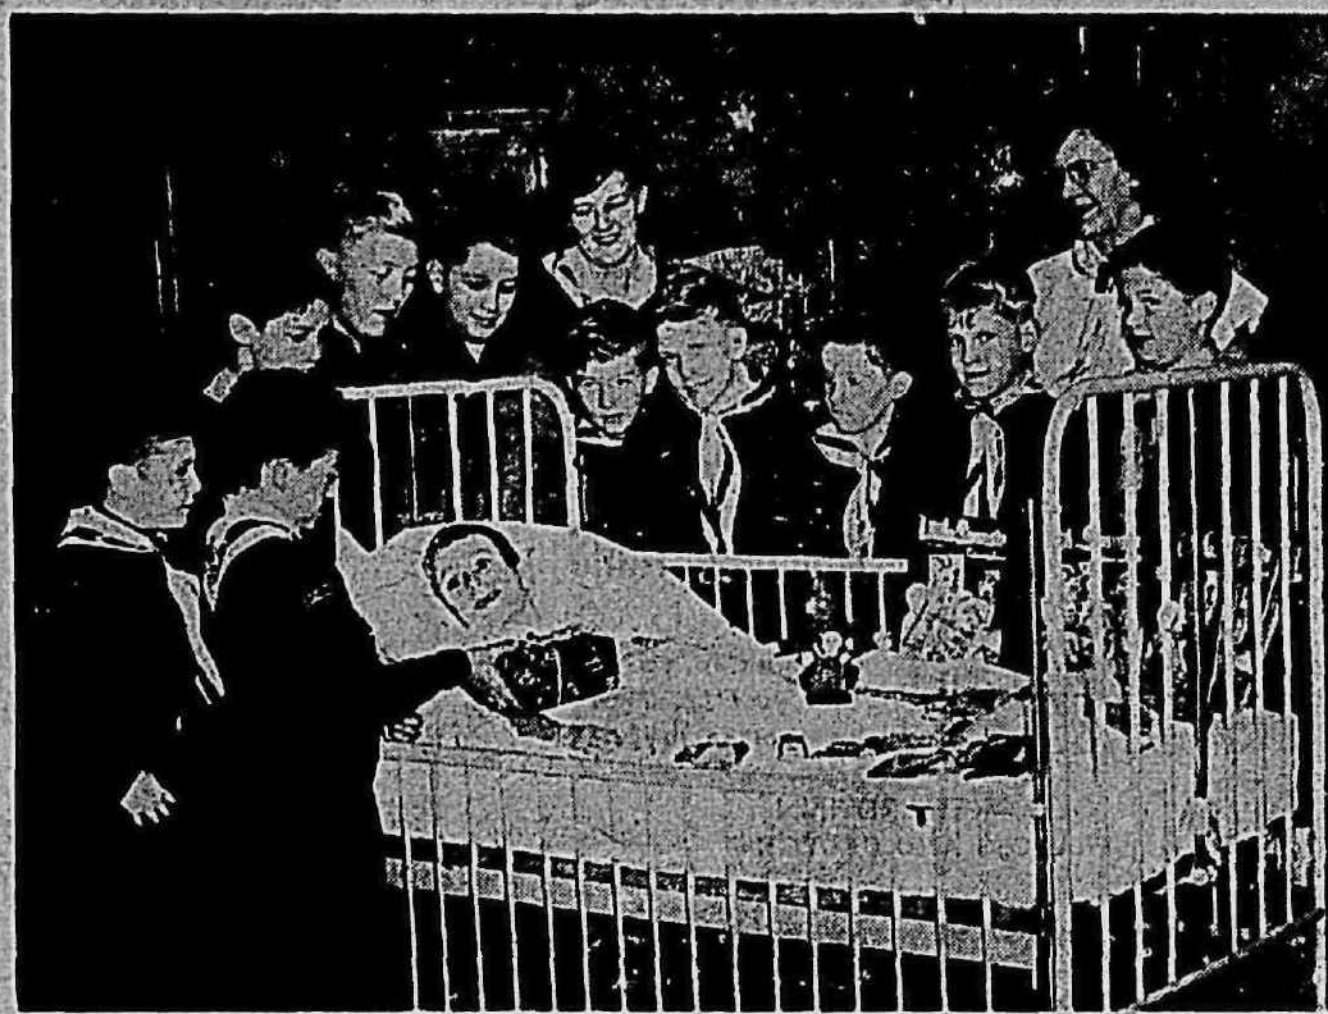

During all of this time the lodge was still known as Antioch lodge, although another Antioch lodge with a different number existed in that village. On April 8, 1940 the

Artist's Drawing Of Proposed New Masonic Temple In Millburn

An artist's conception of how the new Masonic temple will appear when it is completed next summer is shown. The architect firm of Jones and Duncan, Highland Park, have prepared plans for this building which will be 80x40 feet in dimension, constructed of brick veneer and will have two stories, one of which will be partly below ground level. The building will be situated at the rear of the present building, which later will be removed. (Courtesy Waukegan News-Sun)

Deadline Nears on Gifts Through CARE to Needy in Foreign Countries

With approximately $60,000 still to be raised in Operation Reindeer, CARE has extended to December 25 the deadline on its program to send 100,000 food parcels at $1 each overseas as a Christmas greeting from the people of Illinois.

Since most Europeans place more emphasis on Twelfth Night than on Christmas Day, CARE is planning to complete its deliveries of the special $1 package, containing 11 pounds of surplus foods, by Twelfth Night, which falls on January 6.

"Because of the extended delivery date, we are now able to accept orders up through December 25 and still guarantee delivery by Twelfth Night," Martha David, director of the Chicago CARE office, announced. "It should be noted, however, that after Dec. 15 we cannot promise that donors' names and addresses will accompany individual packages, since it would be impossible to attach names and addresses to the packages already overseas."

Miss David expressed appreciation to the thousands of residents of the state who have already subscribed to 40,000 of the packages, which will be distributed to as many needy families and hungry children in nine European countries and seven South American countries. Each package carries the message, "From an American friend who hopes you will have a merry Christmas and a happier new year."

The recipients of the packages are being picked by health and welfare agencies in the sixteen countries in cooperation with CARE's mission chiefs on the basis of greatest need. For the most part, they will be victims of last year's floods and earthquakes, escapees in Germany, and people who have no friends or relatives in America to help them. That is one of the reasons why CARE is not accepting names and addresses of recipients with the dollar contributions. Those wishing to share their Christmas with a hungry child or family overseas should send their contributions of $1 or more to "CARE, Chicago" no later than December 25.

T. B. Association Urges Christmas Seal Returns

So far this year only one-third of Lake county residents have contributed funds for the work of the Tuberculosis Association by buying Christmas Seals and Bonds, it was announced today by Arne W. Makela, Seal Sale chairman. The collections at present amount to $38,662 1/2.

"Contributions are still arriving at the association's headquarters and it is hoped that they will bring the sum up to $55,000 which will be needed to carry on the association's full program for the coming year," Makela said. He pointed out that the campaign will continue through Dec. 31.

"To people who have delayed sending in money for their Christmas Seals, I would like to say again that when you pay for Christmas Seals, you are buying specific services for the prevention and control of TB in this community," he pointed out. "No one, rich or poor, young or old, can say that TB could not touch them. It is a contagious disease caused by a germ. We cannot keep one home in this country safe unless we drive TB out of the whole county, in fact the whole nation."

It was also announced that the Free Chest clinic held at the Sanatorium will be closed between Christmas and New Year's. Clinic will reopen Jan. 14, 1954.

Antioch-Bensenville...

the cellar with a 44 to 32 victory over the Puppies.

The Bensenville Bisons came to Antioch Friday night with an average of 60.3 points per game in conference play with no game with a score less than 54 points.

The Sequoia not only held them to a mere 28 points but proceeded to pile up an imposing 71-point victory. The Scottmen surely were conference champions that night, holding the visitors to seven field goals.

Fred Clarke, 6 ft. 2-inch junior, center, not only played a whirlwind game in dominating at the rebounds, but scored 24 points to lead his teammates and to account for the Antioch victory.

Ben Floyd, the only returning regular from last year, hit the drape for 16 points, his best showing for the season.

The visitors with knowledge of Mike Haviland's scoring ability spent their time guarding him, and although they held him to two field goals and eight points, he was able to feed the ball to Clarke and Floyd who did the scoring, and at the same time he held Ken Sirotzke Bensenville threat, to three field goals and a total of 10 points.

Coach Dick Scott's men showed that they can work as a team and that opponents can't defeat them by bottling one or two men—all are threats.

Due to the concentrated defensive efforts of Larry Lass, the Bensenville scoring ace Pedro Cuatrecasas, was held to two field goals.

None of the Antioch teams is entering any holiday tournaments, although the J-V's and freshmen played practice games at Grayslake Tuesday forenoon.

The next game for the varsity will be on Jan. 2 at Dundee.

Atty. General Castle On Truck Safety Tests

Attorney General Latham Castle isn't convinced that the Illinois General Assembly wants trucks to rumble up and down the state's highways without any checkup on their fitness to travel.

Mr. Castle, in fact, has held the exact opposite, much to the relief of all people who must meet these lumbering machines on the road.

Had Mr. Castle held that the repeal of the Illinois Truck Act by the General Assembly knocked out all other statutes depending on that Act for the sharpness of their teeth, he would have opened the way for operation of trucks without any certification of their equipment.

In taking the position instead that these statutes still retain their teeth, Attorney General Castle has provided for continuation after Jan. 1 next of truck safety tests until the courts hold otherwise or until the legislature takes further action.

Warner Goes to California

H. L. Warner of R. F. D. 1, Antioch, called at the Antioch News Tuesday morning and in renewing his subscription to the newspaper said, "I'm leaving here Sunday for Santa Anna, California, and I wish to pay another year's subscription. Will you kindly change my address to California for I sure don't want to miss a copy of the paper. I've been a subscriber for thirty years and I really enjoy it." Mr. Warner has a summer home at Channel Lake and goes to California for the winter season.
